

SCHUYLER BAILAR

First NCAA trans athlete on a D1 Men's Team

Schuyler Bailar was a top student and an award-winning swimmer and was aggressively recruited by Harvard. Schuyler is also the first openly transgender man to compete on any NCAA Division 1 men's team.

Come hear his inspiring journey of determination and tough choices. Schuyler's story resonates with young and old who sometimes struggle to find themselves in a world of mass media and the pursuit of what he calls "paper successes."

Schuyler's story hit Facebook's top-trending news and has been recounted in hundreds of media outlets from The Washington Post, to Time Magazine, to 60 Minutes and The Ellen Show.
